DRIFT CLASSIC - BROWN

REEF DRIFT CLASSIC

Let's get real about leather and the environment. REEF sources our premium leathers from eco-aware tanneries. Plus, the midsole of this sandal is made with 51% renewable sugarcane-based EVA instead of petroleum-based. So when you wear the Drift Classic, you'll have peace of mind as well as incredible comfort. A full-grain leather footbed features high arch support, and soft leather on both the top and seamless lining of the straps literally hugs your feet. Good vibes with this one.

Our new Water Coast is ready for all your water-happy activities, from beach walks to boat rides. This everywhere shoe includes the same ridiculously soft, bouncy comfort as our famous Cushion Coast, but along with its EVA outsole it features a molded TPU upper, both of which are totally water-friendly. To keep things cool and breezy, we added a breathable airmesh lining and perforated sections. Get these and get out there - the Water's great.

REEF CUSHION COAST

This is why it makes sense for REEF to make a shoe. We know how to make it feel like a sandal. The Cushion Coast's super lightweight, flexible EVA outsole provides comfort and energy when you're on your feet, and the shoe is topped with a breathable mesh upper. Best of all, stretch laces let you skip tying and just slip 'em on and off whenever. But they'll be mostly on. They're that comfortable.

WASHED DENIM
